Real Living Sponsor for ABC's "Extreme Makeover: Home Edition"
Partners with M/I Homes to host www.mihomes.com/extreme

COLUMBUS, Ohio (Nov. 27, 2006) – Real Living Inc., the fourth-largest real estate firm in the country, has joined "Extreme Makeover: Home Edition" and M/I Homes, the program's local builder, to host the site www.mihomes.com/extreme, detailing one of the nationally acclaimed TV show's projects in central Ohio.

The site details highlights of a home built in central Ohio for a marine, who saved the last two survivors at Ground Zero, and his family. It chronicles the week-long home building process with photos, an events calendar, a journal, community information and more. The home is located at 4866 Harbinger Circle, Whitehall, OH 43213.

"Our company and our agents are very involved in the communities we serve. We're very excited to be involved with M/I Homes and 'Extreme Makeover: Home Edition,'" said Kaira Sturdivant Rouda, chief operating officer of Real Living.

Real Living donated bandwidth and server space to host the site, beginning with its construction earlier this month. The site will remain live for one to two months after the airing of the program on Feb. 11, 2007.
