Real Living Agents Ranked Most Productive among Top 10
Real Estate Companies Nationwide

2005 transaction sides totaled 34,659

COLUMBUS, Ohio (July 28, 2006) – Real Living Inc.’s agents are among the most productive in the country, with the highest number of transaction sides per salesperson among the top 10 companies in the nation, according to a listing compiled by REALTOR Magazine.

Real Living’s agents had 34,569 transaction sides, or an average of 16 sides per agent last year. NRT Inc., Parsippany, N.J., HomeServices of America, Minneapolis, and The Long & Foster Cos. Inc., Fairfax, Va., were ranked first through third, respectively. A transaction side means an agent represented either a buyer or seller in a transaction.

“As an agent-centric company, we pride ourselves on providing our agents with the most progressive tools in the industry so they can operate as efficiently as possible. This ranking is proof that it’s working, and we’re committed to continued innovation in agent services,” said Harley E. Rouda Jr., Real Living’s CEO and managing partner.

Real Living provides its agents with a comprehensive intranet, access to online forms and contracts, individual agent Web sites, turnkey leave-behinds, direct-mail postcards and newsletters, e-cards and e-newsletters, and comprehensive professional development for every career level.

This spring, the company launched MyRealLiving version 2.0, a new version of its integrative consumer portal. The industry-first, consumer-agent interface, allows agents and consumers to work together in real time.
